

Tamar Valley LETS is looking for new members to offer and receive skills and services, as well as items no longer needed that other local residents can make good use of.
Anyone can exchange!

Perhaps you need help in your garden or have too many apples or other fruit than you and your family can eat? Are you able to sew curtains or bake cakes? Could you offer your experience of DIY, word processing or other IT related skills?

When you provide a service or give an item you will earn "Tams" which you can then use in exchange for something another member of the scheme is offering - which means you don't have to do a direct swap.

In our current economic climate what could be better than joining a cashless system of trading that all participants can benefit from?
